

DOCTORAL CAPSTONE COLLABORATIONS

MiOTA is excited to begin a Capstone Collaboration with universities throughout Michigan which will support student engagement and contributions. This experience will increase an opportunity for students to gain an understanding of MiOTA while preparing them for future committee and leadership roles. Students interested in advocacy or legislative focused initiatives, capstone projects, or research are encouraged to reach out to the advocacy committee. MiOTA supports this collaboration and welcome any creative opportunity to connect with students and current OT practitioners.

UPCOMING CAPSTONE COLLABORATIONS:

AUTO NO FAULT

Paige Boone, a doctoral OT student from U of M Flint, will be collaborating with the Advocacy Committee to create educational materials on the changes to the Auto No Fault Insurance that were in effect July 2020. This unique capstone project will disseminate resources for OT's, clients, facilities, and insurance providers by Summer 2022.

INTERSTATE COMPACT

Caitlin Cornish, a doctoral OT student from WMU, will be collaborating with the advocacy committee and a special Compact Committee to increase awareness and understanding of the need for Interstate Professional Licensing Compact in Michigan. This unique capstone project will navigate both legislative and advocacy initiatives over the next two years. Caitlin will disseminate her project outcomes by Summer 2023.
